The Trojans, people of Troy, refused so Menelaus asked his brother, King Agamemnon, as well as the other Greeks who swore to defend Menelaus and Helen, to travel across the Aegean Sea to defeat Troy and get Helen back. There were so many warriors, including the famous Achilles, that it took 1,000 ships to get them there!

For ten long years the Greeks were camped outside the gates of Troy but they could not breach the walls.

The Greeks eventually won by building a big wooden horse, which we now call the Trojan Horse. Greek soldiers hid inside the horse, and others put the horse on the shore and left in their boats. The Trojans saw the horse and thought that the Greeks had given up and left.

They thought the horse was a gift in their honour. They dragged the horse into Troy and celebrated their victory. When night fell, the Greeks hiding inside the horse opened the city gates and set fire to the houses. The Greeks who had left in their boats had just pretended to leave, to trick the Trojans. They returned and won the war. The trick was thought up by Odysseus, King of the small island of Ithaca.
